

Get To Know Your PACE Nurse Practitioner

Laura Gibson, NP-C
InnovAge Virginia PACE

“It is absolutely my honor and privilege to assist in providing quality care to every participant who entrusts me with their care.”

— Laura Gibson

Laura earned her Master’s degree in Family Practice Nursing from Chamberlain College of Nursing in IL. She is board certified as a family nurse practitioner by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners. Prior to joining InnovAge, Laura worked as a nurse practitioner with another PACE program. She also has experience as a home care coordinator and as director of nursing with a large health system in VA. She has clinical interests in diabetes management, heart failure and dementia.

Laura strongly believes in the PACE model of care and the importance of the interdisciplinary team. She enjoys working with participants and their families to achieve their care goals.

Laura is married and has six children and six grandchildren. She has a dog who thinks he is the baby of the house. She enjoys going on walks in the woods, playing piano and spending time with her family. She lived in West Virginia and Virginia most of her life and she loves being in the mountains.
